Vision Review: What Changed

OCR-only catalog rechecked against direct image inspection

UPGRADED

- Physical specimen photos are visually real and important
- Datil NM page includes formal LaPaz analysis
- Mechanical device photo has ruler and probable “RUSSIA” marking
- Hoax/police/UFology pages are visually stronger than expected

DOWNGRADED

- Dramatic saucer photos are mostly publication reproductions
- Residential bright-object image is low confidence
- Newspaper clippings are media evidence, not object evidence
- Argentine diagrams are speculative submissions, not engineering proof

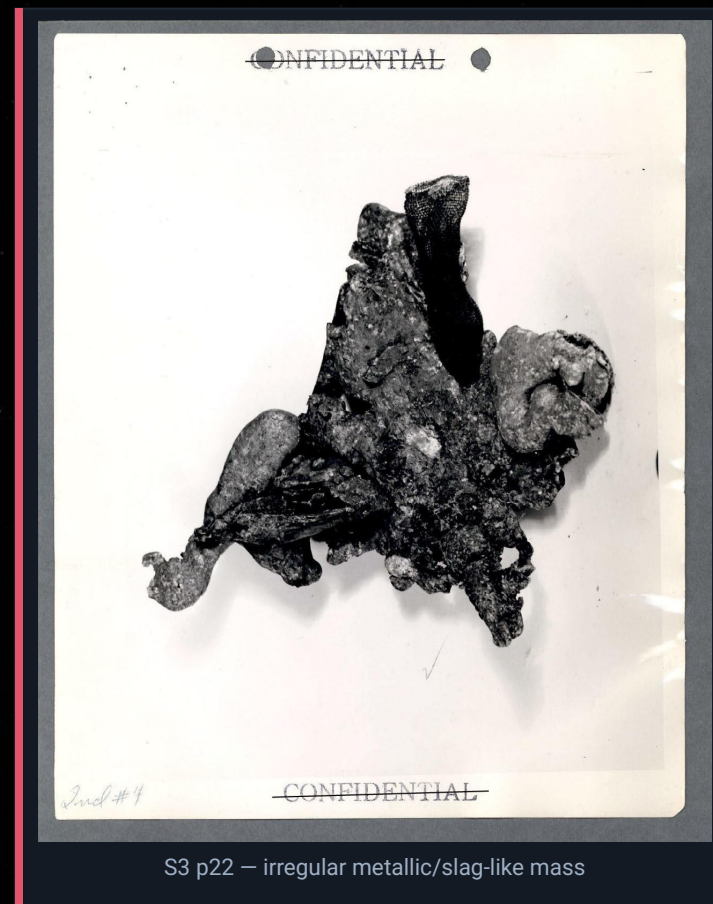

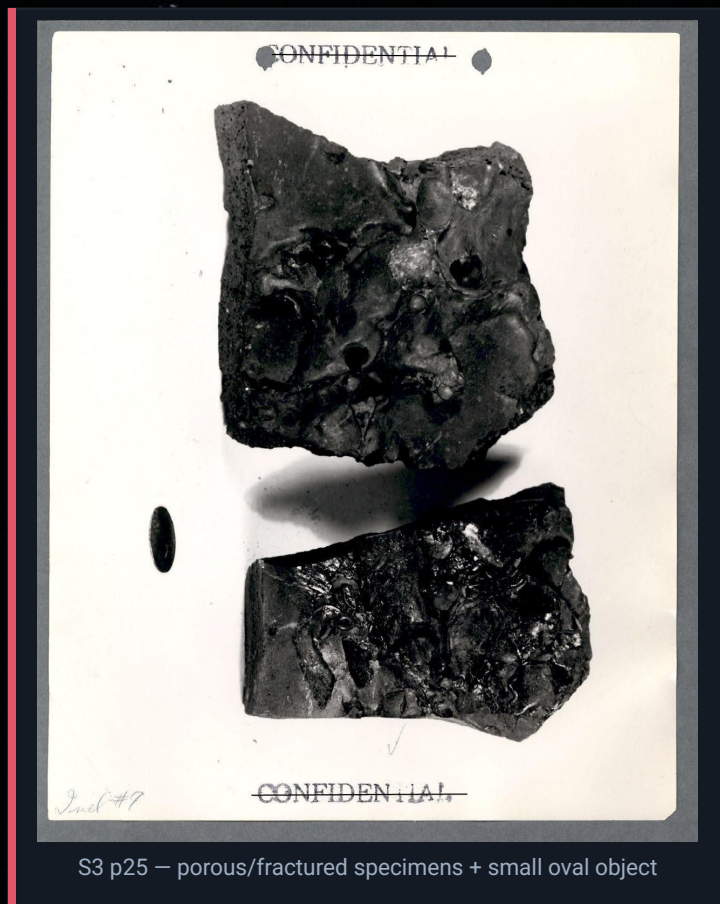

REVISED FRAME

Track D is best understood as a case-file ecosystem:

- specimens
- formal analyses
- ambiguous photos
- witness sketches
- hoaxes / debunks
- civilian UFO culture

CONFIDENTIAL Physical Specimens

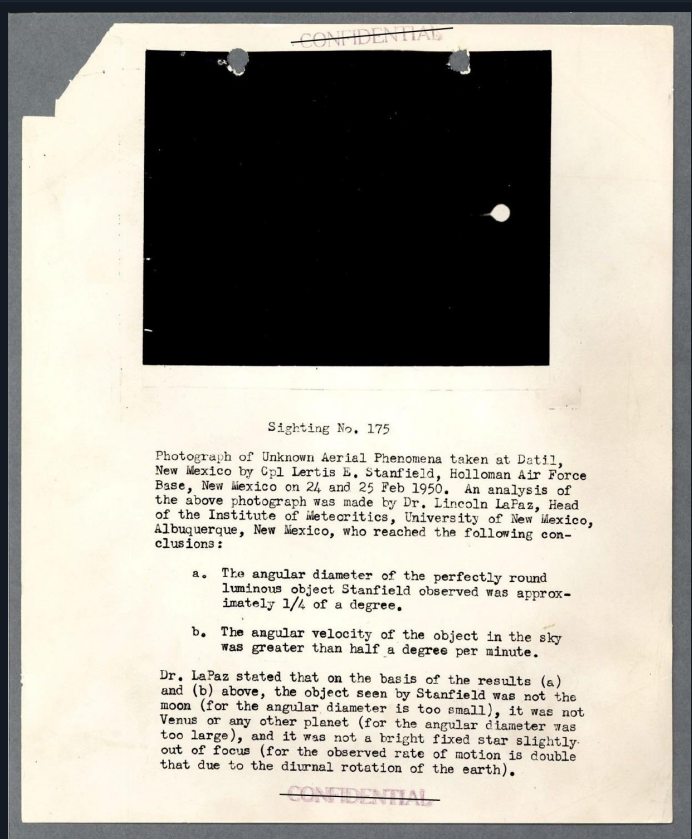

Section 3 pages 20–25 · strongest visual finding

Vision confirms photographed physical fragments under CONFIDENTIAL markings. Composition/origin cannot be determined visually; no scale, chain-of-custody, lab result, or disposition record visible.

UFO Photos: Official Page vs Ambiguous Images

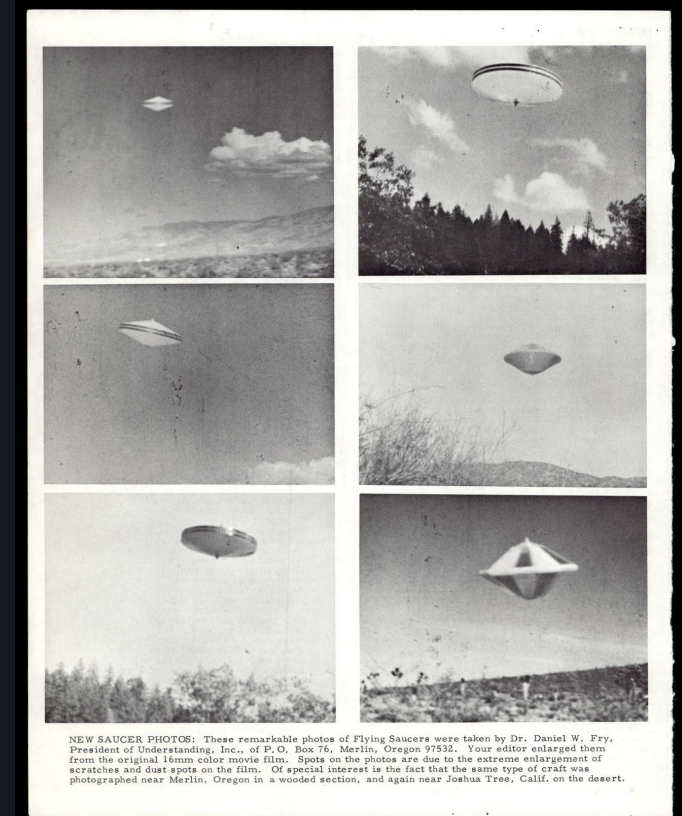

Strongest visually reviewed photo-related pages

Datil NM — formal LaPaz analysis, but object is a dot

Residential bright feature — low-confidence, many mundane explanations

Saucer photo grid — visually striking, weak provenance/publication source

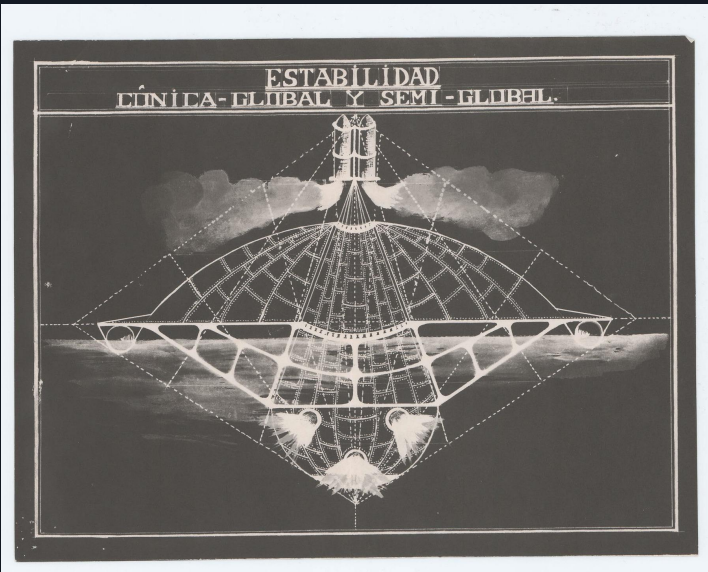

Vision regraded this category: the most official page is visually weak; the strongest-looking saucers are publication reproductions; the residential object is ambiguous.

Sketches, Diagrams & Devices

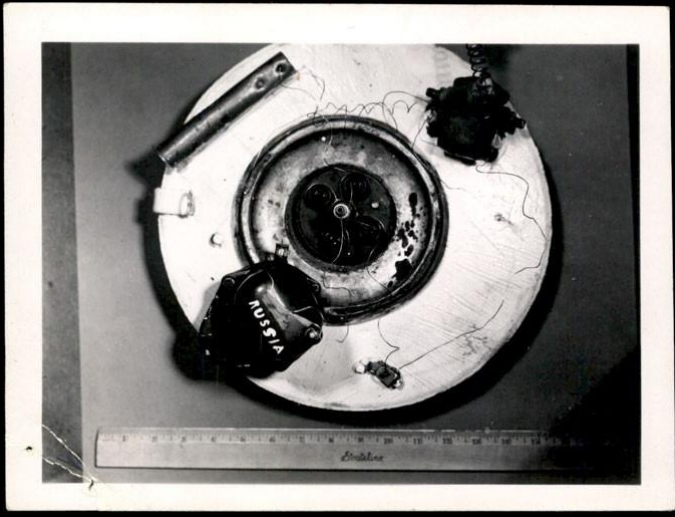

Visual records of interpretation, speculation, and physical artifacts

1947 newspaper disc diagram: side/bottom/end views, 10FT/20FT

Argentine speculative propulsion-style diagram

Circular device with ruler, wires, probable "RUSSIA" marking

These images are valuable, but not proof: they show how witnesses/media/citizens represented UFO claims and how the FBI filed associated devices or submissions.

Space-Ship Story Raises Eyebrows

The Schmidt ... As described by the grain buyer.

light when, white-faced and shaken, he appeared in Kearney Tuesday and talked to see a minister. Taken to police, he told this story: Tuesday he inspected a field of milo about two miles south and a mile east of Kearney. When ready to leave he drove down a side road seeking a place to turn around. Near the Platte River he saw what appeared to be a wrecked balloon. As he neared it, Schmidt said, his car engine conked out. Schmidt said he got out and walked toward the machine. Proximity revealed

SPECIAL AFSCA THIRD NATIONAL FLYING SAUCER CONVENTION ISSUE

ISSUE NO. 24 JULY, 1966 50c

AFSCA / Flying Saucers convention material

This may be the most historically useful visual layer: debunking, police questioning, skeptical media framing, and FBI retention of civilian UFO organization material.

Evidence Grading After Vision Review

What should carry weight — and what should be caveated

High archival value

S3 specimens; Datil report page; Section 2 device; Schmidt police article

High visual impact / weak provenance

Serial 449 saucer grid; saucer over forest; Argentine diagram

Low direct evidence

Residential bright spot; faint newspaper streaks; generic press clippings

Best historical story

The FBI file preserves a full ecosystem: evidence, analysis, hoax, media, public culture

Conclusions & Open Questions

What the visual pass adds to Track D

What We Now Know

- The Section 3 specimen sequence is the strongest new visual finding
- Datil NM is historically significant because of formal analysis, not photo clarity
- Dramatic saucer images mostly belong to publication/civilian UFO culture
- The file includes active debunking and police/media skepticism
- The visual layer strengthens Track D as an institutional-history story

Open Questions

- Where are the physical specimens now?
- Are lab reports or chain-of-custody records missing?
- What exactly is the Section 2 circular device?
- Does “RUSSIA” indicate origin, brand, or something else?
- Why did the FBI retain AFSCA/civilian UFO-club material?
